

Today, Galex has been incorporated into the Dehon Group and this French brand continues to provide global service. With its full range of European refrigerants in high quality Friojet packaging, the famous Galex brand is an international reference for HVAC professionals. To enhance the Galex brand image, we have redesigned our Friojet packaging, which is more modern and in line with the brand's value. This new design contains a code that allows validation of a high quality product. Our goal is to provide the best service to our customers as we market Friojet products to the strictest modern requirements and standards.
